An Overview: Community Redevelopment Agency

The Tampa Community Redevelopment Agency is a public entity established under the guidelines of the Community Redevelopment Act (Chapter 163, Part III, Florida Statutes) to implement community redevelopment activities within designated Community Redevelopment Areas.

Tampa's Community Redevelopment Areas include Central Park, Channel District, Downtown, Drew Park, East Tampa, Tampa Heights Riverfront, West Tampa, and Ybor 1 and 2. The Community Redevelopment Agency Board works to improve the quality of life and economic vitality in these districts. Under the direction of the Board, seven volunteer advisory committees comprised of private citizens, help provide community insight to challenges in their districts.

Members of Tampa City Council serve as the Community Redevelopment Agency. Dedicated City staff provide support services to the Agency and advisory committees including the management of redevelopment funding.

Message from the Chair

In partnership with our many dedicated community stakeholders and the private sector, we will continue to expand equitable housing choices, effective development, and more economic opportunities for our citizens, while enhancing the quality of life in our redeveloping communities through the strategic investment of our resources.

Many significant achievements were accomplished in Fiscal Year 2020. Residential and commercial developments are on the rise in all CRAs. We saw meaningful neighborhood enhancements and infrastructure impacts in the wake of a worldwide pandemic.

- Ybor welcomed Masonite's National Headquarters and its 300 employees in their renovated 56,000 s.f. office building along with Casa Socarras, a four-story 25,300 s.f. commercial office addition.
- West Tampa housing opportunities are improving with the remodeled Mary McLeod Bethune senior housing development as well as the new Renaissance at West River, a senior residential development.
- SoHo Capital completed the first phase of The Heights Union Buildings at Tampa Street and Palm Avenue with a parking garage, a Sprouts Farmers Market grocery store, and a Moxy Hotel.
- East Tampa allocated $900,000 to two housing assistance programs to increase home ownership and assist residents in remaining safely in older homes.
- The CRA acquired land in the NW area of downtown to ensure future workforce housing opportunities for our residents working in and around our central business district.
- Drew Park completed the Tampa Bay Boulevard Park, adjacent to HCC student housing and celebrated new businesses renovating properties and moving in along Dale Mabry.
- In 2020 we completed construction of Madison Street Park and a segment of 12th Street. With the completion of the redesign of Channelside Drive, we expect construction to be completed in the next year providing safer and a more pedestrian-friendly spaces for our residents and visitors.
- Lastly, in Central Park, the Encore! Development began construction of two mixed-use, mixed-income residential buildings adding additional affordable and workforce housing.

Looking ahead, we are excited about investing our resources in ways that will enhance the quality of life for all that live, work and play in the City of Tampa.

To support the work associated with the improvement of Tampa's urban communities, every person participating in CRA activities operates under five guiding principles:

Community Collaboration - proactively engage the talents and energies of citizens and key stakeholders throughout the revitalization process.

Financial Stewardship - ensure that sufficient public returns exist to support the required public investment.

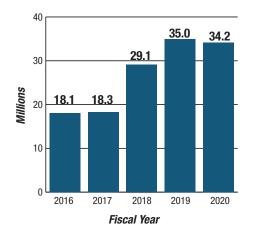

Inspiration - utilize the best talent possible for urban planning and design review efforts to inspire and create attractive, livable areas.

Market Perspective - allow the private sector to gainfully respond to market demands with reasonable risk.

Outcome Accountability - measure success based on achieving results such as improved community aesthetics, quality of life, and tax revenues.

Our Community Redevelopment Areas utilize Tax Increment Financing (TIF) to help fund redevelopment activities. TIF is a unique tool available to cities and counties for the redevelopment of urban areas, and is used to help stimulate private sector investment in targeted communities.

Mayor Jane Castor

This past year, our City has demonstrated one-of-a-kind resilience while making major progress on our journey to Transform Tampa's Tomorrow. We celebrated exciting redevelopment achievements that are changing the way our residents live and do business in our great City, from opening new housing developments to welcoming new businesses. This report highlights just a few of this year's exciting achievements including:

• The 178-room boutique Hotel Haya on 7th Avenue, incorporating the restoration of two historic buildings, is a celebration of historic Ybor and continued growth as a vibrant destination community.

• The City staff and West Tampa community spent 2020 planning for the future mixed-use housing development for the West River 13-acre parcel culminating in an RFP. The new development will provide ample housing options at affordable price points, make the river accessible to local residents and create a true West Tampa gem with vibrant commercial, cultural, and community green space.

• Tampa Heights kept the excitement going despite the pandemic and hosted the Urban Land Institute Trends Conference at Armature Works and held CRA-sponsored events along the newly completed sections of the Riverwalk and at Water Works Park.

- In East Tampa, affordable housing remains a priority and Habitat Homes Hillsborough built and sold 8 homes. CDC of Tampa built and sold 3 homes. Domain Homes purchased 41 lots to provide affordable housing.
- In Downtown, we welcomed the opening of the JW Marriott Hotel, continued construction on the Hyatt House & Hyatt Place Hotel, and the construction of The Henry Tower, providing 188 student residential units.
- 2020 saw construction start on CAE USA's 250,000 s.f. office building on the edge of the Drew Park CRA which will bring 500+ employees to and through Drew Park, eating at our local restaurants and utilizing Drew Park's service providers.
- Construction and new businesses continue in the Channel District with new restaurants at Sparkman Wharf and the Daniel Corporation beginning construction on a 19-story Tampa Channelside Apartments.

I am excited about the many opportunities that await us as we continue taking steps to support economic growth and enhance the quality of life throughout our great city. Together, we can make a real difference in the lives of our residents and foster healthy businesses that become staples in our community. I look forward to working with the CRA board to continue the important work of building strong public-private partnerships, collaborating with our dedicated community stakeholders, and enhancing our CRA areas into vibrant, better-connected, and thriving focal points in our City.

Sincerely,

Jane Castor

Frequently Asked Questions About Community Redevelopment Areas

What is a Community Redevelopment Area?

A Community Redevelopment Area ("CRA") is a geographic area in which the physical and economic conditions meet the definition of slum or blight as provided in the State's Community Redevelopment Act of 1969 ("Act") that the local government formally designates for redevelopment. It is a powerful tool that Tampa and municipalities throughout Florida use to help persistently struggling commercial districts and neighborhoods.

What is the purpose of creating a Community Redevelopment Area?

The basic purpose of creating a CRA is to formally recognize that the designated area deserves dedicated resources to reduce and/or eliminate the conditions of slum/blight and to stimulate community and economic revitalization. A CRA is a long-term, 30-year commitment.

How is a CRA created?

The Act outlines the process for creating a CRA. First, a field study is conducted to document the slum/blight conditions in the area. If legally sufficient documentation is produced, the local government approves a resolution declaring that the area is appropriate for redevelopment under the Act. From there, the local government works with the community's residents and stakeholders to create a CRA Plan for adoption by the local government.

Are there any special funding sources associated with a CRA?

Yes. The Act allows for the creation of a Tax Increment Financing ("TIF") district within a CRA. When a CRA/TIF is created, the Property Appraiser "freezes" the value of the property in the CRA at its current level (often called the "base value"). Annually thereafter, increases in property taxes collected above the base year amount ("increment") are deposited in a trust fund and invested in CRA Plan initiatives. Increment revenues must be spent within the CRA in which they are generated.

Who governs CRA's and TIF expenditures?

A Community Redevelopment Agency, as provided in the Act, governs community redevelopment areas. In Tampa, City Council serves as the Agency. The Council and Agency are separate and distinct governments with different functions and powers. The primary functions of the Agency are to oversee the implementation of CRA Plans and to administer TIF expenditures.

Are community members involved in the redevelopment process?

Yes. The Agency appoints community advisory committees to serve each redevelopment area. The committees meet regularly with city staff and other stakeholders to help prioritize redevelopment initiatives. Committee recommendations are then presented to the Agency for consideration.
